James O’Keefe of the conservative media platform Project Veritas over the weekend claimed that supporters of Democratic congresswoman Ilhan Omar, central to her political base in Minnesota, illegally harvested ballots during a recent Minneapolis City Council election.

President Donald Trump took to Twitter in the early hours of Monday demanding that the Justice Department look into Democrat Rep. Ilhan Omar of Minneapolis for alleged “ballot harvesting”.

In a new series of investigative reports, Project Veritas’ undercover team has claimed there is a ballot harvesting scheme involving what has been referred to as the Ilhan Omar “political machine”.

A former campaign worker said the representatives’ team of allies and associates have turned voter fraud into a well established and coordinated process for application, registering, and subsequent tracking of the harvested ballots from collection to delivery to the polls.

“Well, when it comes to civil war, violence type stuff there’s always military guys, like former guys that stand up for the right thing—when that time comes, then we gotta get some of those type people involved,” he said.
